

Flint Images

Flint picked up from North facing beach on Baleena Bay, Wellington
Its best to go at low tide and search from the low to high tide mark.

Flint cracked open to reveal the glassy surface within. Note the variance in colour, From Brown to grey, and I even found a red coloured piece!
All these pieces have started a fire.

I have even started a fire from these two stones and they're around the size of 10c coin.

So you don't need a lot - just the right stone for your firesteel.
